Pastor's Corner

Rev. Mark Hinchcliff

April 14, 2021

“Yet the news about him spread all the more, so that the crowds of people came to hear him and to be healed of their sicknesses. But Jesus often withdrew to lonely places and prayed.” Luke 5:15-16

Have you ever felt like so many people are asking so much of you that you just shut down and want to be alone in silence for a while? I used to raise horses when I was a teenager and when relationship problems would arise, I would get on my prize mare and ride out to the wilderness to be alone. Teenage relationships were like dog years, a few months constituted a long time, and when a breakup would come it was devastating! No one or no thing could console me except the quiet listening ear of that horse. And when I had talked it all out, I would offer a prayer thanking God for sending that horse to listen and for God letting me have a relationship in the first place.

Normally I love being around people but sometimes there's nothing more healing than a little bit of quiet reflection. My thoughts always begin by thinking it's what others put upon me that's the source of my distress but it eventually comes around to my own expectations being too much to handle on my own. John Calvin referred to that as total depravity. You're out of excuses, other people to blame, or options to take but to call on God. It's a shame that God often ends up our, or mine anyway, last resort. But then the Word of Scripture that says "Be still and know that I am God" finally shuts me up and I find peace. When you find your life on overload and you're looking for some way to find peace even Jesus needed that time alone with God.

I came across this list of 12 warning signs that your life may be on overload. See which ones apply to you and decide what you are going to do about it;

Exhaustion-sheer weariness
Detachment from others or responsibilities
Boredom and cynicism
Increased impatience and irritability
Unrealistic view of self, either inflated ego or low self-esteem
Feelings of being unappreciated
Paranoia
Difficulty concentrating or staying on track
Tension in back, neck, or shoulders
Difficulty finding specific words to describe your feelings
Major depression
Suicidal thoughts

Jesus was no stranger to stress, overload, and pressure. But instead of falling victim to neck the pressures around Him, He turned away from the crowds and found God in solitude. Alone with God, He was renewed, strengthened, transformed, and inspired. We can too.

Blessed be your days,

Pastor Mark

MacArthur Bible Studies: Study of Isaiah

Begins: April 11 at 8:30 AM - June 13 by Zoom

The MacArthur Bible Studies provide intriguing examinations of the whole of Scripture and continues to be one of the bestselling study guide series on the market today. In this study, Dr. MacArthur examines the words of the prophet Isaiah, showing how God proved to be faithful to his people (and us) by promising to send Messiah who would save them from sin. These latest all-new studies join the ranks of the previously released study guides, now offering readers a comprehensive selection of Old Testament Bible studies by bestselling author and theologian John MacArthur.

Each lesson includes:

- Drawing Near: An opening question based on the key theme or topic of the lesson
- The Context: Background information on the passage of Scripture being studied
- Keys to the Text: Detailed commentary on the passage being studied
- Unleashing the Text: Application questions on the passage highlighted in the lesson

- Exploring the Meaning: Three key takeaways from the passage
- Reflecting on the Text: Reflection questions on the passage highlighted in the lesson
- Personal Response: A journaling section to help readers apply the principles

Each study includes an introduction that provides background information to each book of the Bible being studied and a closing "Reviewing Key Principles" lesson to help cement the main themes of the study.

To sign up or for more information, contact Denny Casey (d.a.casey@comcast.net).

Bible Study: Stewardship of Creation

Begins: April 21 at 7 PM by Zoom for six weeks

This is being organized by the FPC Earth Care team

Description from the publisher:

"Explore the biblical bases for our care of creation along with sessions on being environmentally friendly at home, at church, and in the world."

Being Reformed: Faith Seeking Understanding is a series of biblically based mini-courses that provides adults with a foundational understanding of the Reformed faith. Each six-session study--written by well-known and respected scholars--features Scripture, prayer, in-depth commentary, and questions for reflection. Each study addresses its subject from a Reformed theological perspective. Lessons are enhanced through the Leader's Guide, which offers helpful suggestions and direction for group study. The main structure for these guides is the rubric Head, Heart, and Hands.

We have borrowed a few books from the presbytery office that will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. Contact Sam Smith, sam@peakspresbytery.org, to borrow a copy or you may purchase a copy from the PCUSA bookstore.

Earth Care Congregation Certification

To become an Earth Care Congregation, this congregation affirmed an Earth Care Pledge to integrate environmental practices and thinking into their worship, education, facilities, and outreach.

The Earth Care Congregation certification is designed to recognize churches that make the commitment to take seriously God's charge to "till and keep" the garden.

Started in 2010 by the PC(USA), the goal of this program is to inspire churches to care for God's earth in a holistic way, through integrating earth care into all aspects of their church life. The Earth Care Congregation certification honors churches that make that commitment and encourages others to follow their example.

"It is exciting that First Presbyterian Church is one of the 276 churches that chose to dedicate themselves to intentional care of God's earth this year.

Particularly in a time of much uncertainty and worry about the future, this congregation's activities and commitment even in the midst of navigating limitations brought about by COVID-19 brings hope to their community. We believe that First Presbyterian Church will inspire others to respond intentionally to God's call to care for the earth," says Jessica Maudlin, Associate for Sustainable Living and Earth Care Concerns for the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.).

For more information about First Presbyterian Church's earth care program contact Denny Casey at d.a.casey@comcast.net or (276) 224-3906.
